

PORT OF PORT HEDLAND

The Port of Port Hedland is the world's largest bulk export port by tonnage, located on the traditional lands of the Kariyarra people. The port has a single entry channel which extends for approximately 40 kilometres and is impacted by a 7.4 metre tidal swing.

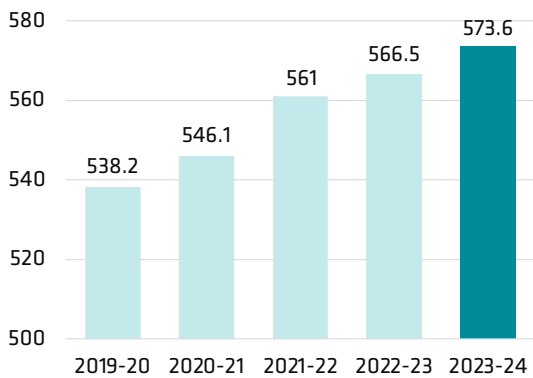

19
operational
berths

3,381
vessel visits
in 2023-24

26 marine pilots training through our new delivery model for marine pilot services, improving the reliability of marine pilot services at the Port of Port Hedland.

573.6Mt
total annual throughput
worth an estimated $115.8 billion

In 2023-24, direct shipping and rotainer imports on Direct Freight Vessels averaged

359 containers a month
which was a 53 per cent increase
on the previous financial year.

Pilbara Ports is progressing on the development of Lumsden Point, with the first construction milestone achieved in May 2024.

Throughput by commodity %

Port Hedland

Map of the Port of Port Hedland

